Description of trip: Our final trip of the year and we joined up with the rest of the classes at Sessions for a trip to the beach. We decided on Wells-Next-To-The-Sea beach as it is such a beautiful area of the North Norfolk coast with so much to do. We arrived and after a short walk from the car park we took in the breath-taking views of the beach. We were soon swimming in the sea. It was so warm. The sea was clear and we could see the bottom. We had initially scheduled to go crabbing, but we were having such a fabulous time at the beach, we decided to stay there. A beach day wouldn't be a beach day without burying someone in the sand. We had one willing volunteer. Thanks Ethan. To finish off the day we were shuttled to the Quay to get chips and curry sauce, before a look round the shops to spend out money. Thank you Cambian for a lovely beach day. Memories we will cherish.

Quotes:

"I've just been bitten
by a crab. I don't need to go crabbing"

"Thank you for a lovely day"

"Gravy please"
