The Underground

A small village, hidden behind a trap door under the Island of Zephyr. There lies the Wizards's Tower, home of Flumle, a blue dragonborn young wizard, honing his magical skills and alongside him, his good friend Zeeth, an elf.

I wonder what's up there?
My Grandad went up there
once, first person to leave the village.
I'm gonna go up there!

Nah, I'm going!

No! I heard it's too dangerous!

You're on your own!

Flumle confidently opens the dusty, heavy, wooden trapdoor leading him from the underground. He instantly hears the clattering of hooves getting louder and louder.

Clattering of hooves

Who are you, and why are you in my forest?

Hey, I'm just here to explore. I'm Flumle by the way.

Sure, why not?

I'm Swiftstride. I can help you if you'd like?

Follow me

No, but I'm still walking, I'll find the way!

Do you even know where you're going?

Swiftstride rolls her eyes and follows.

SCREAM!

Cackle!

Suddenly they hear a scream followed by an evil cackle! As they walk into a village, they see goblins, many goblins terrorising the village. A fat wizard goblin, with a moustache commanding them all holding his poison staff, casting his spell, turning the village water into poison.

I am the great Morias Riceporg and I am the follower of the poison king! Only if you follow and obey us, shall I return your water to a drinkable state.?

Look at that twit of a goblin, who does he think he is, trying to enslave people, for what?

Yeah, let's teach him a lesson he won't forget.

Yeah, totally agree, what shall we do?

BATTLE PHASE!

Flumle lurches forward casting spell fireballs at the goblins.

Morias Riceporg casts invisibility

So long, you dastardly
rapscallions!

I am the Major of Stryford village, my people have been attacked repeatedly by those goblins. Thanks!

We shall host a feast
for our new heros!

Sure, we could do with some help on our team.

Yeah, we do.

Sure, why not?

Would you like to meet my son,
Felix? He's always ranting on about wanting to go on an adventure.
Maybe he can go with you?

Also, do you mind taking my daughter, Felicity, with you?

You can use my carriage if you like? It's enchanted, so wherever you want to go, you drive it without horses, it's armoured and there is also space for Swiftstride.

Thanks, that sounds great.
We really appreciate it.
