Description of the week: In Puffins this week they have continued their work with decimals: understanding how they work with place value and then ordering and rounding them. In English they have been using the internet to research information for their non-chronological report about Ancient Egypt. In Science the children have been designing healthy menus, using their knowledge of food groups. In History they have started a project to create a multi-media presentation using PowerPoint. In the Smarties class this week for English, they have begun writing their non-chronological reports. The children have done lots of research and are putting a lot of effort into their writing. In Maths, they have been learning about money and have discussed the importance of looking after our money. They have learnt how to read a bank statement and worked out a budget for a family based on their income and the bills they need to pay. We even did a role play activity considering our spending choices depending on a given situation. In science, we have been learning about the circulatory system. In humanities/ICT the children have begun creating PowerPoint presentations about their topic which they will be presenting to the rest of the group next week. The Koalas and the Meerkats this week have continued their project on the rainforest. In maths they have been looking at tally charts and creating some of our their using some items we found in the classroom! In Humanities this week they are looking at the variety of animals found in the rainforest and some interesting facts about them. At forest school they also made some carrot and nettle bhajis.
