

New Arrivals at Dilston College

Meet our newest Dilston arrivals. They are so cute and loved by both staff and students already. They don't have names yet but Helen, our animal care tutor, is running a naming competition at college so they will be named very soon. The lambs are only a couple of weeks old and need feeding a few times each day by bottle and feeding bucket. Our students that enjoy animal care sessions really enjoy feeding them, cleaning their pen out and giving and receiving lots of cuddles.
