Welcome

Cambian Hereford School has an excellent reputation for providing a quality education and securing good results in public examinations. The success of the school is based on the flexible and supportive approach taken to provide the highest standards and personalised education tailored to individual students' needs.

At Cambian Hereford School we provide education for a wide range of special needs, including emotional and social difficulties. All students are treated as valued individuals and their needs taken into account when planning the most suitable and effective educational provision for them.

The community spirit and positive atmosphere at the school are a key indicator of the hard work and dedication of the staff and the level to which students enjoy and achieve. Students have access to a broad and balanced curriculum including outdoor education and vocational studies. The curriculum centres around a principle of developing the whole child. School life also teaches and encourages students to develop excellent team working, social and independence skills. This involves students accessing school trips, enrichment activities, social activities and a social, moral, spiritual and cultural education.

All students additionally have access to support staff who work closely with them on an individual and small group basis to focus on personal development. The staff at Cambian Hereford School have a wide range of experience in working with many aspects of special educational needs, delivering accredited courses and providing supportive care packages.

Celebrating success is a regular activity within the school. Students enjoy accessing a wide range of rewards and are keen to discuss how to continue making progress and their long-term aspirations for life.

Our excellent relationships developed between the school and parents, carers and local authorities are key to its success in supporting students effectively. Former students and current students are keen to talk openly about how the school has been key to their success and how they thoroughly enjoy their time at Cambian Hereford School.

I very much look forward to working with you and would welcome you to visit the school by appointment.

Our Approach

Cambian Hereford School is an independent school for up to 18 young people, aged 11 – 18 of both genders.

The school specialises in educating young people with Social, Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties (SEMH). This is achieved through flexible learning experiences and the provision of high quality teaching and pastoral care. These services are delivered by The Cambian Group, which is one of the largest providers of specialist behavioural health services for children in the UK. Although Cambian's work embraces many specialist disciplines, it is united by a common purpose: to actively enable each and every one of the young people in our care to achieve their personal best, however it is defined by them or for them.

At Cambian Hereford School we aim to develop young people with active, creative minds that can, do and will make a positive contribution to society. We strive to transform their learning experience, secure their academic achievement, social and emotional development and personal sense of ambition. There are learning spaces within the building allocated for teaching and nurturing our young people. The school also benefits from a having a small pastoral care group, which students can access to seek additional support. All learning spaces provide a nurturing approach to learning key skills delivered by specialist staff. Surrounding the school is a small garden and playground with football goals and basketball facilities.

Curriculum Organisation

Key Stage 4 Curriculum

At Key Stage Four students have an individualised learning programme that provides GCSE/BTEC courses in English, Maths, Science, PSHE, Art, Design Technology (Food), Film studies, IT, Music, Vocational Studies and Functional Skills. Careers Education, Work Placements, Life Skills and Vocational Training are also offered.

The 14-19 Curriculum is aimed at Key Stage 4 students becoming:-

- Successful learners who enjoy learning, make progress and achieve
- Confident individuals who are able to live safe, healthy and fulfilling lives
- Responsible citizens who make a positive contribution to society.

Through this approach to our curriculum planning we ensure that:

- Each pupil's needs are paramount, so the curriculum and the support they receive are tailored to suit their individual needs and interests
- Each pupil has an input into the area of vocational education they would like to follow (subject to availability/provision)
- Each pupil is supported in making his/her decisions with guidance on how they can be achieved
- Each pupil is given the information and necessary support to enable them to make informed decisions Post 16.

Key Stage 5 Curriculum

Our key stage 5 offer provides flexibility and allows for the needs of the individual young person to be met as far as is reasonably possible, in terms of the courses on offer. As such there is no compulsory model, guidance is given to students as to the most appropriate routes from a range of professionals. Reference is made to the feedback from careers advice and most importantly the views of the young person.

Future planning and transition is discussed at EHCP meetings from year 9 onwards. Collaborative decision making through a multi-agency approach ensures a referral pathway for young person is identified and a transition plan is mapped out with the young person, Head teacher, social worker and parents or carers. More well-defined plans are finalised at the EHCP meeting in year 11 where the young person is asked to make provisional choices about the next step whether that be a vocational, academic or training option. For the most part, students will move, with the school's support, to a suitable post-16 provision. However, there are times when a student may benefit from remaining with us for longer.

The school will identify and commission relevant provision operating within the LA based on a variety of procedures, including review of previous performance, predicted GCSEs, recommendations, first-hand visits to provision, presentations by providers, and listening to the views of young people. Currently we work in partnership with local colleges including Hereford College of Arts, Hereford and Ludlow College and Hereford Sixth Form College, Horizons Training and Hoople Training. Once the route for the young person is identified a clear and formal contract arrangement with the external providers is drawn up to ensure that minimum standards are met, and the safety and welfare of the young person attending is assured.

Our close liaison and communication with providers operating within the LA widens the opportunities for young people to access a range of vocational and academic opportunities to engage them in education and increase their retention in learning after the age of 16. Central to this, is access to a range of accreditation, including a personalised learning pathway tailored to meet individual needs, aspirations and interests. Students may be able to access diverse and flexible learning pathways and progression routes in a variety of settings and contexts, including their college, learning centres, vocational skills centres and work-based training providers. This broad framework ensures that young people can access a wide range of educational experiences. In addition to these placements, students undertake private study time at their home. On-going pastoral support from school ensures that students are able to access individual support appropriate to need. Regular monitoring by the school, ensures that provision meets the minimum standard required and supports the progression of the young person.

Curriculum

Examination Course Assessment

Students will follow a variety of examination courses dependent upon their individual education needs. These will include GCSE, BTEC, and other accredited courses. As students progress through years 9, 10 and 11 they will be continually assessed in line with the QCA. At present this assessment is based on a combination of teacher assessments and standard tests at the end of each key stage.

Curriculum Enrichment

The school actively promotes opportunities to broaden students' experiences through a wide variety of educational visits and working with other agencies to deliver projects on and off-site. The school has engaged in a football project with Hereford United In The Community, Martial Arts and Drama (Bronze Award) and projects with Bright Stripe.

One of the aims of Cambian Hereford School is to encourage students to make a positive contribution to society. One way we achieve this is through continuously engaging students in community and charity events. These events range from fundraising coffee mornings, up-cycling enterprise projects and a range of themed school productions. Students also take part in a volunteering programme for their Duke of Edinburgh awards.

Vocational Placements

All young people have the opportunity to have staff support at vocational placements, including college and others depending on needs, interests and aspirations. In some cases there may be the opportunity for students to begin becoming independent at placements. However, this must be pre-planned and will be decided by the school in conjunction with parents/carers.

Transition

The school endeavours to ensure a smooth transition for students as they move onto new ventures; this involves ongoing dialogue each term, liaison and visits to new providers, advice and guidance throughout the process and liaison to follow up. All transitions are planned thoroughly to fulfil the long-term goals for each individual student.

Careers

All of our young people receive information, guidance and advice on planning their next steps whether into employment, training or further education. Students in KS 4 have an individual careers interview with an independent careers advisor. The school works with the University of Bath to provide a careers education program which aims to explore the world of work. This supports our students from Year 7 onwards and all students are able to retain their careers support from the University until the age of 25 through their Careerpilot programme.

Religious Education Statement

The RE curriculum aims are to:

- Acquire and develop knowledge and understanding of Christianity and the other principal religions represented in Great Britain.
- Develop an understanding of the influence of beliefs, values and traditions on individuals, communities, societies and cultures.
- Develop the ability to make reasoned and informed judgments about religious and moral issues with reference to the teaching of the principal religions represented in Great Britain.

Enhance their spiritual, moral, cultural and social development by:

- Developing awareness of the fundamental questions of life raised by human experience, and how religious teaching can relate to them
- Responding to such questions with reference to the teachings and practices of religions and to their understanding and experience
- Reflecting on their own beliefs, values and experiences in light of their studies
- Develop respect for other people's right to hold different beliefs
- Develop a positive attitude towards living in a society of diverse religions

We respect the right of parents/carers who may wish to withdraw their child from any activity that involves actual religious worship and this will be discussed as part of the admissions process.

Progress Reporting

Parents and carers receive reports at the end of each term, which include the assessments made in each subject and comments from education staff and offsite providers. There is a parent/carers consultation evening at the end of every term.

Over the course of the year the monitoring reports will provide grades for effort, behaviour and attainment. At the end of each school year there is the summative annual school report.

Careers

As well as the reports on students' progress the school sends information to parents and carers on a regular basis, in particular when celebrating achievement. We regularly provide progress reports which record the main successes of the school and of individual students.

Each student in the school has a student file which provides parents and carers with important information and an indication of how their child is progressing.

Parents and carers can see the information recorded about their children at any time. If they are concerned about anything to do with their child in relation to their progress, they are encouraged to contact the school.

Cambian Hereford School recognises the need for an education that offers creative programmes for young people who require extra care and support in their pastoral and academic situations. To this end the school offers tutorial sessions for all pupils to support their personal and social development.

Cambian Hereford School will admit children with moderate to severe emotional, social and mental health needs and moderate learning disabilities. All admissions are channelled through Local Authorities Special Needs Departments and Social Services Departments.

Copies of policies relating to safeguarding, bullying, curriculum, health and safety, first aid and the promotion of good behaviour and the consequences adopted in the event of students misbehaving are available on request from the school and on the school website. It is the responsibility of parents and carers to ensure that they are familiar with these policies.

Prospective students are assessed in their own settings by a member of our Senior Leadership Team using a robust set of measures.

Special Educational Needs

A significant number of our students have an Education Health Care Plan. These can be for both learning and behavioural difficulties. All of our students are assessed by and have access to either a private or a local authority Educational Psychologist.

The school has an Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator who is responsible for ensuring students with EHCPs receive their curriculum entitlement. Students requiring additional support with literacy and numeracy can be withdrawn from the main group to access an individual programme designed to increase their functioning levels.

All students have comprehensive behaviour, engagement and lesson outcome assessments. These are monitored on a daily basis and reviewed weekly through tutorials. Students who successfully manage to improve their behaviour and achieve their behaviour targets receive recognition through the school reward system.

Young People who have English as an Additional Language (EAL)

The school welcomes and values the cultural, linguistic and educational experiences that students with EAL bring to the school. We implement school wide strategies to ensure that EAL students are supported in accessing the curriculum. Our aim is to help EAL students to become confident and fluent in English, where possible, in order to be able to fulfil their academic potential. We seek appropriate help where a student does not have sufficient command of spoken or written English to enable them to engage with learning and other adults.

Pastoral Care and Support

All of our young people have access to programmes to support their emotional, social and personal development.

Pastoral care and emotional support is available at all times, with members of staff dedicated to nurturing and assisting young people. This enables students to receive an additional level of care which enhances their education.

As a school we are committed to working closely with all our students to encourage the development of social and life skills.

Before arriving at Cambian Hereford School

Alisa's Special Educational Needs Identification Profile (SENIP) highlighted four areas of considerable concern: attention and listening, processing and planning, social and emotional issues and challenging behaviour.

Alisa had previously attended a Learning Resource Centre (LRC) in primary school and on transition to secondary school she was educated in smaller sets. Due to Alisa displaying inappropriate sexual behaviour and language she was taught in isolation within the school for a period of time.

Alisa's previous school had reported that she could present as being very immature, displaying characteristics generally used by younger children to gain positive affirmation. However, this changed when she would express sexually explicit behaviour, swear, become aggressive and threaten others. Alisa also had a history of lying and when constructive criticism was given to her she would experience an outburst or act inappropriately.

Child sexual services reported that Alisa's sexual behaviour was heightened by stress and due to this she was at an increased risk of acting on sexual impulse at these times, making her extremely vulnerable to exploitation. They also concluded that she had a limited understanding of emotional vocabulary and struggled to express herself.

How Hereford has supported Alisa

Hereford observed Alisa and noted that there was an improvement in her behaviour when placed in a small class setting with a higher ratio of staff. With this in mind, Hereford ensured that Alisa was supported at all times by two members of staff, initially one of these was a member of care staff to ensure she felt safe with a trusted adult. The hope for this was that when feeling safer Alisa would feel more comfortable to build friendships and adjust better to being around others.

Alisa's behaviours were also closely monitored as part of her curriculum. Once having a better understanding of this, she gained insights into forming and maintaining friendships and trying out new skills with pastoral support.

Alisa quickly built good relationships with staff in school and became happy and settled. The varied curriculum that was put in place for her was largely based around her interests, meaning that she was given the best opportunity to engage with life skills and enjoy her learning, which led to some wonderful academic achievements.

What Alisa's future looks like and what she is doing now

Alisa gained her Entry Level 2 English, Mathematics and Science qualifications and has attained a number of AQA awards. She then went on to attend college for a Post-16 vocational course. Not only has Alisa moved forward onto this next stage, but she has increased her knowledge on how to better assess situations and to build long lasting relationships and friendships going forward in her life.

Before arriving at Cambian Hereford School

Tamsin had previously spent time at a mainstream school where she struggled to deal with social interactions and maintain relationships. She had been unwilling to interact during lessons, had trouble concentrating and refused to attend many of her classes. When Tamsin did attend she demonstrated a high risk of becoming verbally abusive to staff and her peers as well as absconding from site, where she sadly fell victim to exploitation. Since 2009 she had attended five placements which unfortunately proved to be unsuccessful due to the risks she presented. Tamsin experienced a high level of school exclusions due to the complexity of her needs and was also subject to a Care Order being granted in 2010.

In 2016, Tamsin was assessed by an Educational Psychologist. She agreed to engage in a majority of tests, where results showed that her reading and spelling scores were at the lower end of the average range. However, her literacy scores were above average showing a particular area of strength. Her handwriting was printed and neat and her highest individual score was found to be on the visual memory test.

It was suggested that Tamsin would benefit from a small nurturing environment in order to reach her full academic potential. It was also recognised that her ability to function was significantly affected by early experiences, damaging her confidence and self-efficacy related to learning, meaning that curriculums would need to be created around this.

How Hereford has supported Tamsin

Tamsin came to Cambian Hereford School in April 2020 where she was initially placed on a part-time timetable. However, she was able to engage full-time after just a few days of settling in.

After her educational needs had been assessed by the school, a bespoke curriculum was created for Tamsin so that gaps in her skills and knowledge could be addressed. An Educational Psychologist continued to work with Tamsin where her performance on assessment tasks suggested that she had a mild to moderate level of general learning difficulty.

During Tamsin's time at Cambian Hereford School, the following plans were put in place to ensure she had the best opportunity to engage with life and learning:

- Personalised learning styles and practical learning opportunities
- a personalised timetable
- clear boundaries, rewards and consequences
- summative assessments and close tracking of progress in order to identify gaps in learning
- highly skilled staff with a clear understanding of SEMH, working on a one to one basis
- EHCP outcomes embedded in planning for education

Tamsin has since learnt to be more accepting of her peers and has shown an empathetic side, helping others who were also finding things difficult and demonstrating patience with them. She has also represented the school twice in football matches, showing that she can work well in a team. She has truly grown in confidence since starting at Hereford and came to respond to the pastoral support more positively over time.

What Tamsin's future looks like and what she is doing now

Since attending Hereford, Tamsin has achieved her GCSE English & Mathematics qualifications, completed her BTEC Level 1 Award in Sport and Active Leisure with a Pass and achieved 13 AQA Unit Awards! Tamsin has a clear goal of achieving a Health & Social Care qualification and successfully completed an application for a College placement to study in this field.

Since leaving Hereford School, Tamsin has moved into a semi-independent facility, having completed independent living skills during lockdown and is looking forward to the next phase of her life as a confident, young individual.
