Description of trip:

During the exam period at Anglia Way, pupils visited Heacham beach. Whilst on an educational visit to Heacham beach, pupils beachcombed and searched for unwanted litter on the coast and disposed of these items. Pupils wore whistles to keep in contact with one another when peculiar items were found. The rubbish we found on the beach included a used BBQ, plastic bags and even a mouldy toilet brush.

Quotes:

"We need to save the sea turtles."

"Quick, blow your whistle."

"Look at this cool shell, I am taking it home."

Pupils discovered a pair of butterflies struggling to fly due to being stuck in wet sand. Pupils managed to work together to save them by placing them on dry pavement. We watched the butterflies dry off and fly away.
