2. Terminology

2.1. Our aim is to use consistent terminology throughout this policy and all supporting documentation as follows:

Personal Information/ Personal Data	Personal information is any information about any living person from which they can be identified. This can be on paper, on a computer or even just talked about. Personal information can relate to, for example, past or present employees/workers, contractor/ suppliers, customers or shareholders. Some examples are: personal contact details, such as name, address, email, telephone number, date of birth, bank account details.
Special Category of personal information/Sensitive Personal Information	Information about an individual’s racial or ethnic origin; political opinions; religious or philosophical beliefs; trade union membership; health; sex life or sexual orientation; criminal convictions, offences or alleged offences; genetic data; or biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying an individual.
Processing	Any activity that involves using personal information. This includes collecting personal information, recording it, storing it, retrieving it, using it, amending it, disclosing it, destroying it, and transferring it to third parties.
Data Protection Impact Assessment	A data protection impact assessment is an assessment of the impact on individuals of the envisaged processing operations on the use of their personal data.
Direct Marketing	Direct marketing means the communication (by whatever means) of advertising or marketing material which is directed to particular individuals.
‘Establishment’ or ‘Location’	This is a generic term which means the Children’s Home/school/college
Individual/Data Subject	This means the person whose personal information is held by the Company.
Service Head / Head of Service	This is the senior person with overall responsibility for the Location.
Regulatory Authority	Regulatory Authority is the generic term used in this policy to describe the independent regulatory body responsible for inspecting and regulating services.

Social Worker	This means the worker allocated to the child/family. If there is no allocated worker, the Duty Social Worker or Team Manager is responsible.
Placing Authority	Placing Authority means the local authority/agency responsible for placing the child or commissioning the service
Staff	Means full or part-time employees of the Company, agency workers, bank workers, contract workers and volunteers.

3. Introduction

- 3.1. The Company is committed to all aspects of data protection and takes seriously its duties, and the duties of its employees under the Data Protection Act 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulations (UK GDPR).
- 3.2. This policy sets out how the Company deals with personal data and applies to CareTech and all of its direct and indirect subsidiaries and references to “the Company” shall be construed as referring to all such companies.
- 3.3. It affects all staff and must be read in conjunction with the following policies:
 - Information Security (GIG 04)
 - Risk Management (GIG 05)
 - Records Management (GIG 06)
 - Information Systems Acceptable Use (GIG 07)
 - Access to Records (GIG 08)
 - Confidentiality Code of Practice (GIG 09)
 - Processing of Special Category Data and Criminal Offence Data
 - Remote Working Policy
- 3.4. The Company shall maintain, as required, certain personal data about living individuals for the purposes of satisfying operational requirements and legal obligations.
- 3.5. The need to process data for the Company's operational purposes should be communicated to all data subjects. Further information of the Company’s operational purposes and how it handles personal data is outlined in the Privacy Policy which is available on the website.
- 3.6. The types of personal data that the Company may hold includes information about:
 - current, past and prospective employees;
 - current, past and prospective students and residents;
 - individual staff members of placing authorities;
 - individual staff members of suppliers;
 - Shareholders, foster parents and others with whom it communicates.

- 3.7. Personal data, whether it is held on paper, on computer or other media, shall be subject to the appropriate legal safeguards as specified in the General Data Protection Regulations 2016 (UK GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018.
- 3.8. The Company have appointed a Data Protection Officer who is ultimately responsible for ensuring compliance with the Data Protection Act and implementation of this policy on behalf of the Information Governance Board. Any questions or concerns about the interpretation or operation of this policy should be taken up, in the first instance, with the Data Protection Officer who can be contacted at: Data.Protection@CareTech-UK.Com.

4. Purpose

- 4.1. The purpose of the Data Protection Policy is to support the 7 Caldicott Principles, the 10 Data Security Standards, the UK GDPR and Data Protection Act (2018), the common law duty of confidentiality and all other relevant national legislation. We recognise data protection as a fundamental right and embrace the principles of data protection by design and by default.

5. Scope and Consequences for Non-compliance

- 5.1. All Employees, irrespective of their role within the organisation, are held by the contents of this policy and are required to follow and uphold the values, principals and expected behaviours of the Company when carrying out their duties and responsibilities.
- 5.2. With regards to data protection, the roles and responsibilities of employees are set out at the end of this policy (see Appendix 1).
- 5.3. All Employees and others who obtain, handle, process, transport and store personal data for the Company are under an obligation to ensure that they have regard to the six data protection principles (see below) when accessing, using or disposing of personal information.
- 5.4. Failure to observe the data protection principles within this policy may result in an Employee incurring personal criminal liability. It may also result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal. For example, if an Employee accesses another Employee's employment records without the requisite authority, the Company will treat this as gross misconduct and instigate its disciplinary procedures. Such gross misconduct will also constitute a criminal offence.

6. Principles

6.1. The Company fully endorses and adheres to the six principles of the Data Protection Act. These principles specify the legal conditions that must be satisfied in relation to obtaining, handling, processing, transportation and storage of personal data. The Company will retain its data and records in accordance with the requirements of ISO 9001/2008 and other appropriate Regulations and Standards.

The Data Protection Principles

6.2. The principles require that personal information must be:

- a) Processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner;
- b) Collected only for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes, and processed only in line with those purposes;
- c) Adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which it is processed;
- d) Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date;
- e) Not kept in a form which permits identification of individuals for longer than necessary, in relation to the purposes for which it is processed;
- f) Kept secure, and protected against unauthorised or unlawful processing, and against accidental loss, destruction or damage.

Satisfaction of principles

6.3. In order to meet the requirements of the principles, the Company shall:

- a) make all reasonable efforts to ensure that individuals who are the focus of the personal data (data subjects) are informed of the identity of the data controller, the purposes of the processing, any disclosures to third parties that are envisaged; given an indication of the period for which the data will be kept, and any other information which may be relevant.
- b) ensure that the reason for which it collected the data originally is the only reason for which it processes those data, unless the individual is informed of any additional processing before it takes place.
- c) not seek to collect any personal data which is not strictly necessary for the purpose for which it was obtained. Forms for collecting data will always be drafted with this mind. If any irrelevant data are given by individuals, they will be destroyed immediately.
- d) review and update all data on a regular basis. It is the responsibility of the individuals giving their personal data to ensure that this is accurate, and each individual should notify the Company if, for example, a change in circumstances mean that the data needs to be updated. It is then the responsibility of the Company to ensure that any notification regarding the change is noted and acted on.

- e) undertakes not to retain personal data for longer than is necessary to ensure compliance with the legislation, and any other statutory requirements. This means the Company will undertake a regular review of the information held and implement a weeding process. The Company will dispose of any personal data in a way that protects the rights and privacy of the individual concerned (e.g. secure electronic deletion, shredding and disposal of hard copy files as confidential waste).
- f) only process personal data in accordance with individuals' rights (these rights are listed below). All members of staff are responsible for ensuring that any personal data which they hold is kept securely and not disclosed to any unauthorised third parties. The Company will ensure that all personal data is accessible only to those who have a valid reason for using it.
- g) have in place appropriate technical and organisational security measures to safeguard personal information; ensure that personal information is not transferred to countries outside of the United Kingdom without notifying the Data Protection Officer and that suitable safeguards are in place.

7. Notifying the Data Protection Officer of certain activities

- 7.1. A Data Protection Impact Assessment must be undertaken prior to undertaking certain activities that involve processing personal information.
- 7.2. A 'data protection impact assessment' will consider the impact of the activities on individuals; identify privacy risks and steps to minimise those risks; and evaluate whether the activities are permitted by data protection law.
- 7.3. Employees should seek advice from the Data Protection Officer so they can advise whether a data protection impact assessment is required in the following situations:
 - a) Process new types of personal information i.e. personal information which has not been collected before.
 - b) Process personal information in a new or significantly different way, including via the use of new technologies.
 - c) Use personal information for a purpose other than that for which it was collected.
 - d) Enter a contract with a third party that involves disclosing or sharing personal information.
 - e) Any new or significantly different use of automated processing of personal information to evaluate an individual, for example to analyse or predict an individual's performance at work, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behaviour, location or movements.
 - f) Any new or significantly different use of automated decision-making i.e. where a decision is made on a solely automated basis without meaningful human involvement, and it has a significant effect on individuals.
 - g) Any new or significantly different large scale processing of special categories of personal information; or large scale, systematic monitoring of a publicly accessible area. Whether processing is 'large scale' will depend on, for example, the number of individuals, volume of data, range of data, duration of processing, or geographical extent – if you are in any doubt as to whether processing is large scale, contact the Data Protection Officer.
 - h) Implement significant changes to systems or the business (including new or different technology) which involve processing personal information.
 - i) Any direct marketing activity to individuals (including electronic marketing by email, telephone, fax or text message).

- j) Transmit or send personal information to, or view or access personal information in, a country outside of the United Kingdom or the EEA where this has not been previously authorised by the Data Protection Officer or in line with the Group's Data Protection Policy. The EEA is the 28 countries in the European Union, along with Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway.

7.4. Employees must comply with any directions from the Data Protection Officer in relation to the above, and the terms of any data protection impact assessment.

8. The lawful bases for processing personal information

Non-Sensitive Personal Data

- 8.1. The Company will only process personal data where it is strictly necessary to carry out a specific purpose. The processing of personal data must be based on one of the legal bases listed below:
- a) the data subject has given his or her consent.
 - b) the processing is necessary for the performance of a contract with the data subject (e.g. monitoring performance of employees in line with the contract of employment) or where the data subject has requested the Company to take specific steps before entering into a contract (e.g. obtaining employment references from a previous employer).
 - c) to meet our legal compliance obligations (safeguarding children, for example).
 - d) to protect the data subject's vital interests (i.e. matters of life or death).
 - e) to perform a task in the public interest or for our official functions where the task or function has a clear basis in law.
 - f) to pursue the Company's legitimate business interests providing there is no conflict with the data subjects rights.

Sensitive Personal Data

- 8.2. The processing of sensitive personal data represents a greater intrusion in individual privacy than when processing non-sensitive personal data. We will therefore take special care when processing sensitive personal data, in particular in ensuring the necessity of the processing and security of the information.
- 8.3 The processing of sensitive personal data must be based on one of the above legal bases for processing non-sensitive personal data and one of the additional legal bases below for processing sensitive personal data:
- a) The data subject has given explicit consent.
 - b) The processing is necessary in the context of employment law, or laws relating to social security and social protection.
 - c) The processing is necessary to protect vital interests of the data subject (or another person) where the data subject is incapable of giving consent.
 - d) The processing relates to personal data which have been made public by the data subject.
 - e) The processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
 - f) The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, and occurs on the basis of a law, it is proportionate to the aim pursued and protects the rights of data subjects.

- g) The processing is required for the purpose of medical treatment undertaken by health professionals, including assessing the working capacity of employees and the management of health or social care systems and services.
- h) The processing is necessary for reasons of public interest in the area of public health.

8.4 Sensitive personal data must be processed in keeping with the Policy for Processing Special Categories of Personal Data and Criminal Offence Data.

9. Criminal Convictions Data

9.1. There are specific rules regarding the processing of data relating to criminal convictions and offences. Such data must be processed in keeping with the Policy for Processing Special Categories of Personal Data and Criminal Offence Data. Advice should be sought from the Data Protection Officer as required.

10. Consent

10.1 Consent is:

“any freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject’s wishes by which he or she, by a statement or by a clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data relating to him or her”.

- 10.2. Consent means giving people genuine choice and control over how we use their data. If the individual has no real choice, consent is not freely given and it will be invalid. This means people must be able to refuse consent without detriment, and must be able to withdraw consent easily at any time. It also means consent should be separated from other terms and conditions (including giving separate consent options for different types of processing) wherever possible.
- 10.3 Whilst consent is one of the legal bases for processing of personal information, it is not required where another legal basis exists. Where consent is required, the data subject must be informed and their wishes must be respected and written record must be retained for auditing purposes.
- 10.4 The Company will only obtain an individual’s consent where there is genuine choice and genuine control by the individual whether or not to consent to the processing of their personal information. We will rely on other legal bases where they are appropriate for the processing.
- 10.5. Personal data or photographs will not be used in newsletters, websites or other media without the consent of the data subject. We will seek consent before displaying within our Locations, personal information about individuals (including, certificates/qualifications). Routine consents will be incorporated into the Location’s individual’s care data gathering sheets to avoid the need for frequent, similar requests for consent being made by the Location.
- 10.6. Consent will not be required to publish information already in the public domain. This would include, for example, information on staff contained within externally circulated publications such as Bulletins and Locations’ Parent Newsletters. Any employee who wishes to withdraw their consent to their data being circulated in such publications should contact the Human Resource Director.
- 10.7 Where the individual lacks the capacity to consent, a ‘best interest’ assessment must be undertaken to inform the decision-making process.

11. Children

- 11.1. Communication aimed towards children and young people must be clear and concise. It should be age-appropriate and presented in a way that appeals to a young audience.
- 11.2. Where we rely on consent as the lawful basis for processing information about children and young people we will ensure that we obtain consent from children aged 13 years and over. For children under this age we will seek consent from whoever holds parental responsibility for the child.
- 11.3. Where parents have separated or the young person lacks the capacity to consent, consideration should be given to the 'best interests' of the child/young person.

12. Direct Marketing

- 12.1. Direct marketing” means the communication (by whatever means) of advertising or marketing material which is directed to particular individuals.
- 12.2. The Company will not participate in direct marketing practices in the absence of:
 - Explicit consent from the data subject
 - A legitimate business interest reason (in this case, advice must be sought from the Data Protection Officer)
- 12.3. Even where legitimate interests or explicit consent has been established, all correspondence and the relevant webpages/emails must include opt-out options.
- 12.4. All individuals must be given the opportunity to opt-in to receive material at the point of data collection. The appropriate opt-in mechanisms must be put in place where third party marketing or advertising materials are distributed to named individuals. In situations where this cannot be feasibly done, the materials must not be distributed.

13. Data security and Retention

- 13.1. The need to ensure that data is kept securely means that precautions must be taken against physical loss or damage and that both access and disclosure must be restricted.
- 13.2. All staff are responsible for ensuring that:
 - any personal data which they have access to is kept securely;
 - personal information is not disclosed either orally or in writing or otherwise to any unauthorised third party;
 - computer workstations in administrative areas are positioned so that they are not visible to casual observers and are not left unattended when the user is still logged-on or in any other circumstances when the personal details of staff or individuals in our care could be accessed by unauthorised persons;
 - papers containing personal information are stored where they are not accessible to anyone who does not have legitimate reason to view or process them and they are not left on view in circumstances in which they could be read by unauthorised persons;
 - particular care and measures are taken to protect sensitive personal information from unauthorised access.

- 13.3. The Head of Location/Team Manager is ultimately responsible for ensuring that data is restricted internally to only those individuals or groups of persons who need access to any data through the course of their work role.
- 13.4. The Company needs to retain information whilst service users and employees remain looked after or employed by it and for a period after the relationship terminates in accordance with statutory limitation periods and the Company's Data Retention Schedule. All staff are responsible for ensuring that information is not kept for longer than necessary.

14. Right to Access Information

- 14.1. Employees and other subjects of personal data held by the Company have the right to access any personal data that is being kept about them electronically and also have access to paper-based data held in certain manual filing systems.
- 14.2. All individuals who are the subject of personal data held by the Company are also (in some circumstances) entitled to:
- The right to be informed about the information we collect about them and how we handle it
 - The right of access to their personal information
 - The right to rectification of their personal information
 - The right to erasure of their personal information
 - The right to restrict processing of their personal information
 - The right to transfer their personal information to another person or organisation
 - The right to object to processing of their personal information
 - The right not to be the subject of any automated decision-making by us using their personal information or profiling them
- 14.3. These rights are subject to certain exemptions which are set out in the General Data Protection Regulations (UK GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018. Therefore, requests from individuals regarding their personal information must be handled in line with the Access to Records policy (GIG 08); and advice must be sought from the Data Protection Officer.
- 14.4. All enquiries about the handling of personal information must be dealt with promptly and courteously.

15. Data Disclosures

- 15.1. Personal data will only be disclosed to organisations or individuals for whom the data subject's consent has been given, or organisations that have a legal right to receive the data without consent being given.
- 15.2. When requests to disclose personal data are received by telephone it is the responsibility of the Company to ensure the caller is entitled to receive the data and that they are who they say they are. It is advisable to call them back, preferably via a switchboard, to ensure the possibility of fraud is minimised.
- 15.3. If a request is made in person for personal data to be disclosed it is the responsibility of the Company to ensure the caller is entitled to receive the data and that they are who they say they are. If the person is not known personally, proof of identity should be requested.
- 15.4. Personal data should only be disclosed to Police Officers if they are able to supply formal, specific written confirmation of a specific, legitimate need to have access to specific personal data e.g. to assist in criminal investigations.
- 15.5. A record should be kept of any personal data disclosed as an audit trail and so that the recipient can be informed if the data is later found to be inaccurate.

16. Transferring Personal Information outside of the United Kingdom

- 16.1. There are strict guidelines regarding the sharing of information outside of the United Kingdom.
- 16.2. Advice must be sought from the Data Protection Officer before transferring the personal information of any individual to another country.

17. Personal Information Breach

- 17.1. A personal information breach is a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction of personal information; loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure, or access to personal information transmitted, stored or otherwise processed.
- 17.2. If you know or suspect that there has been a personal information breach, you must report it immediately to your line manager and the Data Protection Officer. You must also take action to stop the breach getting worse, for example, by:
 - a) Confirming that an email has been deleted by the recipient following accidental disclosure, or if possible, revoke any further access.
 - b) Recovering lost paper records or any lost device left in a public place.
 - c) Changing the access codes to any compromised building.
 - d) Informing IT in the event of any compromised computer or data access or anything suspicious or untoward on your device, applications or network files & folders.
 - e) Disconnecting your device from the network and report directly to IT, if you suspect you are being directly targeted in a cyber-attack.
- 17.3. In order to reduce the potential for data breaches all staff are required to comply with the requirements of this policy and in particular Appendix 2, below.

18. Appendix 1: Roles and Responsibilities

18.1 The Board of CareTech Group

The board of CareTech Group is responsible for all governance within CareTech and its associated companies.

18.2 The Senior Management Team

The Senior Management Team has responsibility for information governance. This involves providing high level support to ensure that each service applies relevant information governance policies and controls, including compliance with the requirements of the Data Protection Act 2018/UK GDPR

18.3 The Data Protection Officer

The Data Protection Officer is responsible for:

- a. Acting as the first point of contact for all data protection issues
- b. Providing guidance and advice on data protection issues
- c. Renewing and amending the Company's data protection notifications to the Information Commissioner
- d. Coordinating the timeliness of responses to subject access requests and other requests from data subjects
- e. Overseeing all data sharing protocols and agreements
- f. Creating, maintaining and renewing training modules and toolkits as appropriate
- g. Providing data protection training and awareness raising
- h. Coordinating and investigating information breach procedures.
- i. Ensure compliance with and review of the NHS Data Security and Protection Toolkit (DSPT) and all annual updates

18.4 Department/Line Managers

Department/Line Managers are responsible for ensuring that this policy and any associated procedures governing the use of personal information are understood and followed by all staff within their service. In addition they must:

- a. Ensure that their staff has access and resources to receive data protection training appropriate to their role
- b. Report any suspected breaches of confidentiality or information loss to the Data Protection Officer and follow any subsequent procedures
- c. Identify any existing or emerging information risks relating to personal information and report to the Data Protection Officer
- d. Ensure the timeliness of responses to subject access requests and other requests from data subjects
- e. Ensure that there are appropriate procedures and measures in place to protect personal data, particularly when that information (hardcopy and electronic) is removed from the Company's premises
- f. Undertake annual information self-assessments to ensure on compliance with this policy
- g. Consult the Senior Management Team and Data Protection Officer before entering into any information sharing protocol or agreement.

18.5 Employees

Employees have a responsibility for data protection and must:

- a. Read, understand and follow this policy and any associated procedures that relate to the use and handling of personal information in the course of their work
- b. Undertake data protection training and ensure they have a clear understanding of their responsibilities when handling personal information
- c. Identify and promptly report any risks to personal information to their line manager and/or the Data Protection Officer
- d. Identify and report suspected breaches of confidentiality or compromised personal data to their line manager and/or the Data Protection Officer
- e. Identify and forward any subject access requests to the Data Protection Officer to ensure that requests can be processed in accordance with the statutory timescales
- f. Assist clients in understanding their information rights and the Company's responsibilities in relation to data protection.
- g. Ensure that any personal data that they provide to the Company is accurate and up to date and inform the Company of any changes to personal information which they have provided, e.g. changes of address.

19. Appendix 2: Handling Personal Information Securely

19.1 Emailing Personal Data

- a. Before sending personal or confidential information by email, always double-check that recipient names, email addresses, and attachments are correct.
- b. Do not forward unnecessary email trails and always double-check that the content is appropriate.
- c. Limit the amount of personal data that you send to only that which is necessary.
- d. When emailing more than one recipient, use the 'Bcc' function to hide recipients' identities, unless there is a legitimate reason why the names and email addresses of recipients would need to be shared.
- e. When sending particularly sensitive information, consider asking a colleague to undertake the above checks for you (known as a "peer check")

19.2 Posting Personal Data

- a. Before sending personal data by post, always double-check that you are sending the information to the correct recipient and that you have addressed the envelope fully and correctly.
- b. Always check that any documents you are sending have not been mixed up with other information.
- c. Clearly mark the envelope or parcel "private and confidential" and/or "to be opened by addressee only", and include a return address. Use secure postage/delivery services appropriate to the sensitive nature of the information.
- d. When sending particularly sensitive information, consider asking a colleague to undertake the above checks for you (known as a "peer check")

19.3 Office Security

- a. Lock your computer screen when you leave your desk.
- b. Ensure that visitors are accompanied at all times whilst in the building.
- c. Destroy or dispose of paper files securely
- d. Do not print personal data unless absolutely necessary and do not leave the printer unattended whilst printing personal data.
- e. Keep your desk clear of any papers besides those required at a particular time.
- f. All personal or confidential information held in any form; e.g., paper, CD, memory stick, etc. must be locked away when unattended.

19.4 Carrying Personal Data Off-Site

- a. Confidential documents/materials or documents containing personal information, must not be taken out of the office without specific authorisation from a line manager. Taking paper records/hard copy material off-site should only happen when it is absolutely essential to do so and there is no alternative method for accessing the information or undertaking the work. Records should not be taken off-site just because it is convenient to do so.
- b. Where papers records/hard copy material have to be taken off-site, only the minimum amount of personal or other confidential data necessary for the job in hand should be removed and, where possible, data should be anonymised.
- c. Carry paper files in a locked briefcase or in a folder or bag that can be securely closed or zipped up. Ensure that the briefcase/folder/bag contains your name and contact details.
- d. Never leave paper files, laptops or mobile phones unattended, even for a short time. Lock them away or keep them with you.
- e. Count how many files you have before you set off and check that you have the same number of files prior to leaving all destinations.

19.4 Social Media/Mobile Devices

- a. Personal devices (e.g. mobile phone or iPad) must not be used to capture or store any information in any format (text, picture, video, attachments) about service users, staff, customers or clients.
- b. Any information about staff, service users, customers or clients must be captured or shared using a company- issued device. The information should then be transferred onto the company's information management systems and then deleted from the mobile device.
- c. Information about staff, service users, customers or clients must not be shared or stored on WhatsApp, Facebook or other forms of social media with explicit consent from the individual to whom the information relates.
