Description of trip:

Today we visited the town of March, to visit the train station, the library, the church and the football stadium. We started with the train station where we found what places you could travel to and then went through to the ticket office and the tracks. We stood on the passenger crossing and watched a train transporting containers come through. We then went to the library saw the very huge number of clubs and groups they hold and found that they also have a registry office inside. Moving on to the church unfortunately the main church was having work done to the roof so we visited the small blessings chapel. Last of all was the football stadium that we looked at from afar as this was also having work carried out to the pitch. We found that the river that runs through the town lots of people live on narrow boats and it also has a sensory garden sponsored by local shops.

Quotes:

"I would love to live on water"

"it is busier than I thought it would be"

"the house next to the big church is called a rectory"
