Description of trip: This week Flamingo's visited Shouldham Warren to complete a class photography challenge. We were so lucky with the weather: icy underfoot, but sunshine peeking through the trees. We split into two pairs and completed our challenge. We had to take photos of feet, clouds, a photo that reminds us of gratitude, something furry, hands, a selfie to name a few. We embraced the challenge and also enjoyed having a walk around Shouldham Warren. It was so peaceful and we made lots of new furry friends. It was nice to relax and have some quality time with our peers. When we're back in class, our teacher is setting us the task of creating a PowerPoint presentation with our partner to display our photographs and share them with our class. This is our last trip as a four, so it was lovely to have a wellbeing trip. Next week we are learning to fly a kite.

Quotes:

"I love it here, it's so peaceful"

"Can we do this trip again?"

"Next time I'm going to bring my Cannon DSLR"
