

On Wednesday 15th October, Cambian Wing College gathered together to celebrate the life of our dear colleague and friend, Joanne Quinn.

Joanne's mother, Ann and Joanne's sister, Sophie joined us in showing our love and respect for Joanne at this difficult time.

Joanne sadly passed away on Sunday 14th September with her family by her side.

Joanne worked for Cambian Wing College for 6 years, her first role being LSA and then Cook. Joanne was a reliable and consistent member of the team who brightened up our days. Joanne kept a tight ship in the kitchen being awarded 5 star food hygiene ratings every year. Her meals were delicious, especially on pudding days.

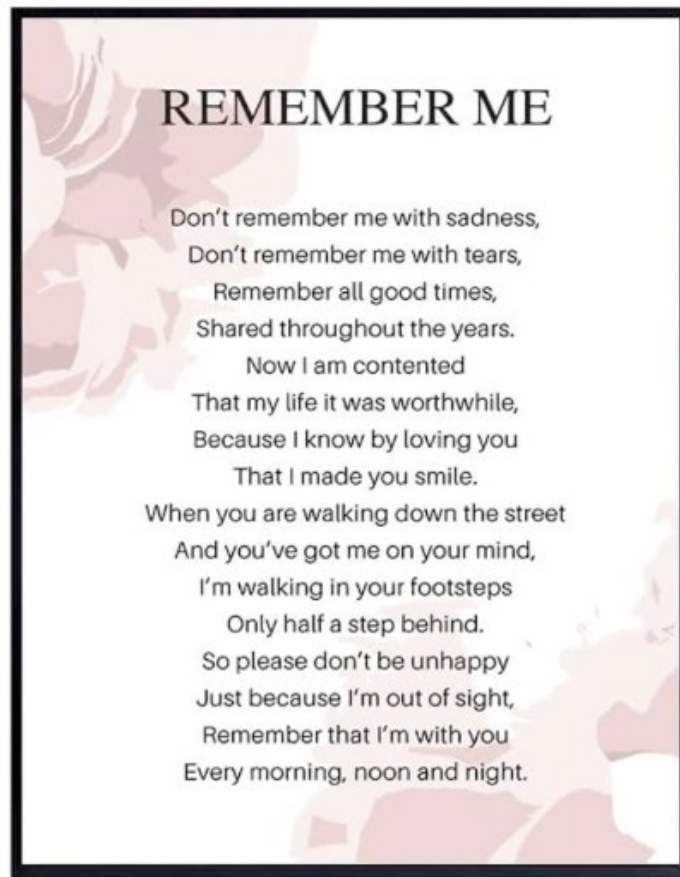

Chance made us colleagues but the fun and laughter we shared made us friends.

She will be missed by all of us as Joanne was infectiously funny, a little bit ditzy but most of all she was extremely caring towards everyone around her.

I had the honour of working and managing Joanne for the last 5 years as college cook. She was one of the strongest and most hard-working women I have ever had the pleasure of working with.

The poem Remember Me was read Greg.

My last few words of the memorial was a saying provided by MacMillian Caring Locally, the hospice where Joanne spent her last few days.

Always together, never apart,

Maybe in distance but never in heart.

At the end we each tied ribbons to the tree in memory of Joanne which was kindly donated to the service by CareTech Foundation Fund.
