

Exploring Future Pathways: Year 11 Student Visits Local College

This week one of our Year 11 students enjoyed a bespoke visit to a local college of his choice to explore opportunities in construction, a field he is keen to pursue after leaving Cambian Hereford School.

Accompanied by staff, the student travelled independently using public transport including both the bus and train. This journey was not just about visiting the college but also about developing valuable life skills such as reading timetables, purchasing tickets and travelling with confidence.

During his visit the student took part in a positive and engaging conversation with a college tutor, discussing a range of construction-related courses and potential pathways depending on his GCSE results. The visit provided him with a clear insight into the options available and gave him plenty to think about as he begins to plan for his future beyond Year 11.

Overall it was a successful and inspiring day, combining career exploration with practical independence skills and leaving our student feeling more confident and excited about the next steps in his education journey.
