

Outcomes:

- To see a variety of aquatic creatures
- To learn about their habitats
- To understand that some sea creatures are endangered
- To socialise and play together

We chose one of the coldest days of the year to go to Hunstanton to attend the Sea Life centre. We arrived at 10.30, only to discover it didn't open until 11.00. However, the staff took pity on us and let us in to sit in the café to have a snack and warm up!

We began by looking at sharks, rays and catfish. Then we looked at the rockpools and sea horses. In the next room, where the piranhas were, we were able to crawl along a tunnel and pop up beside an alligator.

After that, we went out to have a look at the very inquisitive penguins. They were really smelly!! Then we were entertained by the seals, who posed very beautifully for us - see picture! The otters were less compliant and hid in their house.

In the tropical area, one of the keepers took a cockroach out and showed us. We also saw the leafcutter ants hard at work!! A lovely, if somewhat cold, day!

Quotes:

Renata just stroked
the penguin!!!

It's all a bit fishy!

I loved Bob, the turtle!

