- Follow the map during the walk.
- Teamwork.

Description of trip: We had exhausted the walks around Terrington Saint Clement, so it was time to conquer another village. This is our third walk around Clenchwarton and probably the one we have enjoyed the most. It was enjoyable. Although the weather was cold and the wind bitter, bringing the real feel down to -5 degrees, we were all prepared and warm. So far, we have walked a lot of concrete paths, so it was nice to be out on a muddy path in the middle of nowhere with fields either side of us. We were surrounded by nature. We could see the first signs of spring. Snowdrops popping up in the undergrowth. Birds chirping in the trees. We found lots of rabbit warrens too, but no rabbits. We were ecstatic to see our van after we had clocked up 4.2 miles of walking though. We worked extremely hard. When we got back the site lead treated us to a finger of fudge. Thank you Cambian!

Quotes:

“How many miles do you think we will end up walking?”

“I can hear the birds chirping”

“We’re in the middle of nowhere”
