Description of trip: This week it was time to explore a new area, so we visited Castle Rising and North Wootton. We started off in a country lane and it took us down an amazing path with open fields to North Wootton. When we got into North Wootton there was an old phone box which had been turned into a box exchange. Next to the phone box was a post box and on top someone had knitted three pigs and a wolf to signify 'The Three Pigs' story. It was so cool. Our teacher told us that the person who does this, changes it on a regular basis. So, we are looking forward to seeing a different knitted topper for the post box. We played at the play park and had a snack, before it was time to return back to the van. We totalled 4.1 miles. We enjoyed this walk the most as there were signs of spring all around and the weather was so much milder than our previous walks. Warmer days are coming.
