Monitoring and Review

This policy will be monitored on an ongoing basis through the service's established governance and quality assurance systems. Responsibility for ensuring that the policy remains compliant with legislation and regulatory frameworks sits with the Proprietor Representative and Regional Lead.

A formal review of this policy will be undertaken no later than three years from the date of approval, or sooner if changes in legislation, regulatory guidance, or operational requirements necessitate it.

The Head of Policy will support this process by identifying relevant changes in legislation, regulation, national standards and emerging best practice. The Head of Policy will also incorporate learning from inspections, audits and practice developments into future revisions whilst overseeing all proposed amendments to the universal content to ensure accuracy, consistency and compliance.

1. Local School/College Profile

Devon School is an independent specialist provision for students aged 7 to 18 with Social, Emotional and Mental Health (SEMH) needs. We provide a nurturing and supportive environment where students can access learning that is tailored to their individual needs. Our approach focuses not only on academic progress, but also on helping every student develop confidence, self-esteem, resilience and positive relationships. At Devon School, we believe that every young person deserves the opportunity to succeed and to discover their strengths in a safe and compassionate learning community.

At Devon School, our vision is to collaborate with students and families to create a respectful and compassionate school community. We aim to foster a lifelong love of learning, empowering everyone to become the best versions of themselves.

Our school community is guided by five core values that shape everything we do:

- Respect
- Honesty
- Responsibility
- Resilience
- Kindness

These values help us create a positive environment where students feel safe, valued and supported to grow.

2. Purpose

This policy applies to Devon School (Adapt Locally) sets out how we will deliver accessibility for learners, colleagues, and the wider community across all sites. It provides a universal framework and outlines the expectations that apply to:

- Staff (teachers, tutors and the wider staff team)
- Senior leaders
- Learners
- Visitors and contractors (where relevant)

By using this policy, Devon School (Adapt Locally) meets statutory duties, upholds safeguarding responsibilities, complies with data protection requirements, and sustains high-quality, inclusive provision. In practical terms, that means accessible teaching and tutoring, a progressively more accessible estate, and information that people can actually use—digital and otherwise.

3. Scope

This organisational policy applies across all education sites, services and functions. It establishes the universal standards and expectations that must be followed consistently throughout the organisation.

Each site implements these standards in accordance with the statutory and regulatory requirements of the nation in which it operates as set out in Appendix A-C.

4. Local Adaptation Requirement

Some sections in this policy are marked Adapt Locally. These sections are completed by each site to reflect local operational procedures or national equivalents (e.g., safeguarding framework, inspection remit, curriculum/quality framework, data protection contacts).

Where England-specific statutory references appear in the universal policy, sites in Wales and Scotland insert their own national equivalents into the marked Adapt Locally sections.

All local additions are:

- Accurate
- Up to date
- Consistent with national legislation and regulator guidance
- Fully aligned with the universal standards in this policy

Where no local adaptation or local equivalent is required, the universal content remains fully applicable.

5. Legal and Regulatory Context

Devon School is governed by the statutory duties, safeguarding requirements and inspection arrangements of the nation in which it operates. The universal standards in this policy are implemented in line with the correct national frameworks set out in Appendices A–C, which summarise the legal, regulatory and inspection requirements for England, Wales and Scotland.

6. Our commitment

We want every learner, colleague, parent/carer, and visitor to feel the site was designed with them in mind. That commitment shows up in two ways: first, we anticipate barriers and remove them where we can; second, when barriers still arise, we respond quickly with reasonable adjustments so participation is the norm, not the exception. This policy gives each site a clear, practical framework for doing that consistently, in line with national law and inspection expectations.

6.1 Access to Learning (teaching, tutoring and support)

In classrooms and workshops, teachers and tutors plan for inclusion from the outset, not as an afterthought. Lessons assume a range of needs will be present; materials are prepared in accessible formats; assistive technologies are used confidently. Barriers—whether physical, sensory, cognitive, or related to communication—are anticipated and reasonable adjustments are implemented quickly. This reflects the anticipatory nature of accessibility planning in schools and the Equality Act’s wider duties.

6.2 Access to the Physical Environment (estate and operations)

Entrances, circulation routes, toilets, teaching spaces, signage and wayfinding are progressively improved through estates plans that prioritise dignity and independence. Personal Emergency Evacuation Plans (where required) are in place, tested, and understood. Capital and maintenance plans explicitly show how accessibility is being improved over time in line with the regulatory and legislative frameworks where the site is located Adapt Locally.

6.3 Access to Information (communications and digital)

Letters, handbooks, timetables and assessments are designed to be readable and available in alternative formats on request, with clear turn-around times that we meet. Digital content follows recognised accessibility standards and is tested with real users where possible; teams use accessible templates by default and act on audit findings. The DfE Accessibility & Inclusive Design Manual offers concrete, practical guidance on standards, testing and audits that teams can adopt across sites. Adapt Locally.

7. Roles and Responsibilities (clear ownership and follow-through)

7.1 Staff (teachers, tutors and wider staff team)

Staff make inclusion visible every day: they plan for diverse needs, use accessible materials, and implement agreed adjustments. When barriers emerge, they log them, fix what they can, and escalate what they can’t—promptly and constructively.

7.2 Senior Leaders

Senior Leaders make sure a Local Accessibility Plan (or locally required equivalent) is in place, published where required, and reviewed on the correct cycle for the nation. They assign responsibilities, align budgets, and keep an eye on impact, not just activity.

7.3 Organisation Leadership (central)

The organisation owns the universal policy, provides model templates and training, and runs proportionate assurance so we can say—confidently—how well we are doing and what we’re improving next.

7.4 Learners and Families

Learners and parents/carers know how to request adjustments, give feedback, and participate in reviews. Their insights shape our priorities.

7.5 Visitors and Contractors

Visitors and contractors receive clear instructions about accessibility expectations and comply with site procedures while on the premises.

8. Reasonable Adjustments (how people get help, fast)

Requests can come from learners, families, staff or partners. We triage quickly, agree what will be done, by whom and by when, and we confirm it in writing in a plain, respectful way. Where we can't do what's asked, we explain why and offer alternatives. This process is easy to find on the site website and reflected in induction for new staff. This brings to life the anticipatory and continuing responsibilities set out in national guidance.

9. Local Accessibility Planning and Publication

Adapt Locally

Each site maintains a Local Accessibility Plan. The plan is short, concrete and public-facing (where required), with 3–5 objectives spanning: learning, environment, and information. It names leads, resources, milestones and evidence. Review cycles follow national rules regarding publishing, review cycles and alignment to local authorities associated strategies. Sites refer to Appendix A-C for guidance on requirements.

10. Monitoring, Evaluation and Assurance

We check progress termly at site level and twice-yearly across the organisation. Evidence includes learner voice, parent/carer feedback, lesson/learning walks focused on inclusion, estates progress, and digital accessibility checks. Findings feed straight into CPD, procurement, and capital planning. This ensures what's on paper is visible in classrooms, corridors and communications.

11. Training and Competence

Accessibility is part of induction for everyone and refreshed annually. Teachers and tutors get practical, subject-specific strategies for inclusive delivery. Estates and digital teams get training on standards, audits and fix-cycles. Leaders are briefed on their nation's legal and inspection expectations.

12. Feedback, Concerns and Complaints

Raising a concern is simple and safe. We publish how to do it, we respond in a timely way, and we treat every contact as a chance to learn. Trend analysis (what people ask for, how quickly we deliver, and where we're slow) informs the next iteration of the Local Accessibility Plan.

Equality Impact Statement
