Description of trip: This week we went to King's Lynn Park, also known as 'The Walks' and 'The Dice Box'. We went to the playpark to kill some time until the venue we wanted opened. Due to the rain, we decided to take shelter in the new library. It is so spacious and peaceful, with lots of areas to sit and enjoy a book. We will definitely be back to visit. The Dice Box opened at 11am. It is a café with a twist. They have every board game that you could possibly think of and I mean every board game! We ordered some snacks and set to choosing a game. We chose, 'Dumb questions to ask your friends'. A player chose a topic, the other two had to answer 1 of the 5 possible questions. You gave the first player your answers and they had to try and work out what question you asked. It was very funny and had us laughing at every round. The food was great too. Thank you Cambian!

Quotes:

"Who has the best laugh?"

"They have so many games here!"

"I give it 10/10"
