

Outcomes:

Resilience: adapting positively when plans changed unexpectedly

Flexibility: accepting changes and embracing new opportunities

Personal, Social and Emotional Development: managing disappointment and maintaining a positive attitude

Communication Skills: discussing options, sharing ideas, and expressing feelings appropriately

Understanding the World: exploring different outdoor environments and appreciating nature

Social Skills: playing cooperatively, supporting one another, and enjoying shared experience.

This week, our class planned to visit Houghton Mill and Water Close Meadow. We enjoyed a short walk around the beautiful surroundings, but unfortunately, we were unable to enter the mill because it required a pre-booked visit.

We then decided to return to Wisbech and visit Spiney Park. However, when we arrived, we discovered that the park was closed for maintenance. After another change of plan, we headed to Gorefield Park instead.

The children coped brilliantly with the unexpected changes throughout the day. They showed resilience, flexibility, and a positive attitude, making the most of every situation. At Gorefield Park, they enjoyed exploring the playground, playing together, and having fun outdoors.

Although the day did not go as planned, it was a great opportunity for the children to practise adaptability, patience, and teamwork. We were very proud of how well they handled the changes and continued to enjoy the day.

Quotes:

Look, that swan has babies.

When can we come to this park again? We love it here

Could we come here every week?